Event/Activity Name	Promotion of Nano Fertilizers
Brief Information on the Activity	The Role of Cooperative in development of Nano Fertilizers and their use case to the farmers across India and world was told by the representatives of the IFFCO to the farmers and secretaries of the societies gathered at the venue. The role of nano fertilizers was highlighted as an innovative solution to enhance agricultural productivity. The presentation emphasized how nano fertilizers, with their small particle size, are more efficient in nutrient delivery to plants, ensuring better absorption and minimizing nutrient loss. These fertilizers not only promote healthier crop growth but also help in reducing the environmental impact of traditional fertilizers by decreasing runoff and leaching. By offering a more precise and controlled release of nutrients, nano fertilizers can improve crop yields while optimizing resource use, making them a sustainable choice for modern farming practices. The seminar also covered the potential economic benefits for farmers, as nano fertilizers can lead to cost savings through reduced fertilizer usage and increased crop output.
Objective	Promotion of Nano Fertilizers and important role played the cooperatives.
No. of Participants	25
Achievements & Outcomes	The IFFCO seminar on nano fertilizers, celebrated under the International Year of Cooperatives, highlighted the combined benefits of cooperatives and nano fertilizers. It showcased how cooperatives can provide farmers with access to innovative solutions, fair pricing, and shared resources, while nano fertilizers enhance productivity and sustainability. The seminar encouraged farmers to leverage cooperatives for better farming practices and strengthened IFFCO's relationship with the farming community.
