Additional Remarks

The drive was indeed a great success, in overall. The inauguration of the “Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam” tree plantation drive was successfully organised on 05th June 2025, in alignment with World Environment Day. The event was graced by the presence of Hon’ble Minister for Cooperation, Shri Subhash Shirodkar, along with the Dy Registrar of Cooperative Societies (Tech) and Dy Registrar of Cooperative Societies (Admin).

The department has proposed to organize this tree plantation drive in four phases, with the first phase specifically designed for the department staff. This inaugural phase was successfully conducted on the same day, 5th June 2025. The function was attended by esteemed personalities from the cooperative sector and the representatives of various cooperative societies, who contributed to the spirit of the event. The department staff were also present in large number.

During his address, Hon'ble Minister Shri Subhash Shirodkar emphasized the importance of planting new trees to enhance our environment. He expressed that there is no greater joy than sitting under a tree and enjoying the beauty of nature. Furthermore, he encouraged the staff to plant a tree alongside their parents or cherished elderly individuals, fostering a deeper connection with nature.

One of the dignitaries present also highlighted the significance of sustainability, suggesting that every time we consume a fruit, we should make it a point to plant a seed from that fruit. This simple act can contribute significantly to our goal of building a greener India.

The event concluded with the distribution of saplings to representatives of various cooperative societies, reinforcing our collective commitment to environmental stewardship.
