International Year of Cooperatives Plantation Programme – “Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam”

To celebrate the International Year of Cooperatives, a special plantation programme titled “Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam” was organized on 01 August 2025 at the Iligara village, Tantanagar Block, West Singhbhum district, Jharkhand. The programme aligns with the principles of cooperative values—mutual help, concern for community, and sustainable development—while strengthening the bond between people and nature.

The focus of the programmes were:

- To promote tree plantation and environmental sustainability.
- To pay tribute to mothers through a symbolic and ecological gesture.
- To empower community-based organizations like SHGs and FPOs to take environmental action.
- To showcase the role of cooperatives in driving climate-conscious initiatives.

The event saw enthusiastic participation from:

- Self-Help Groups (SHGs)
- Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs)
- LAMPs (Large-sized Adivasi Multi-Purpose Societies) members
